A. The Intermountain and Colorado Catholic is placed on sale at the James Clarke church goods house, 627 Fifteenth street, Denver, Colo.

Corner Stone Laid.

Another step in the progress of the church in Colorado was marked when the cornerstone was laid last Sunday of the new St. Mary Magdalen church in Edgewater. The new church was formerly a part of St. Patrick's and was established only a month ago, with Rev. Father Desautels of Central City as pastor. The congregation numbers 12 families. The new church is situated at the corner of Chase street and Twenty-sixth avenue, and when completed will be a pretty though very simple structure. Until ready for occupancy services will be held every Sunday in the Methodist Episcopal church, on the opposite corner. In the absence of Rt. Rev. Bishop Metz, the cornerstone was laid by Mr. Henry Robinson, vicar general of the diocese and pastor of Annunciation church. Other priests attending the solemn service were Rev. P. A. Phillips, chancellor of the diocese, Rev. Edward Barry, S. J., pastor of Sacred Heart church; Rev. Father Pius, S. F., of St. Elizabeth's, and the pastor of the new church, Rev. Father Desautels. A number of altar boys in cassock and surplice also marched in the procession, which formed at the Edgewater Methodist Episcopal church. The sermon was delivered by Mr. Rev. Mr. Robinson and the box containing the articles usually placed in such was blessed by Rev. Father Desautels. This is the sixth offering of St. Patrick's parish during the twenty-five years of its existence.

St. Vincent's Aid Society.

A mass meeting was held Sunday afternoon, June 29, in Logan Avenue school house to make arrangements for the great annual picnic in aid of St. Vincent's orphanage. It has been decided to have the affair at Manhattan Beach on Saturday, August 11th. All present at Sunday's meeting took tickets to dispose of at the meeting of St. Vincent's Aid society Tuesday afternoon each member pledged himself to sell tickets. With each ticket is a coupon entitling the purchaser to a chance on three lots in University Park addition. These lots were generously donated by the Joseph P. Dunn Shoe and Leather company. At a meeting of the executive committee later in the week workers will be assigned the various booths. The committee is composed of Mr. Joseph P. Dunn, chairman; Mr. Patrick H. Riordan, treasurer; Mr. John Hesse, secretary; and Messrs. John A. Flynn, Gratian O'Hagan, D. J. Sayer, E. P. McGovern, Thomas P. Dolan, W. J. Mykies, C. J. Dunn, Thomas P. Dolan, George Kern, Peter Lamont, Lawrence Parcell and E. J. Weckback. St. Vincent's picnic is always one of the great successes of the year, and this one promises to be no exception. It is held with the increased prosperity of the city and the additional attractions of Manhattan Beach, it should eclipse all previous attempts.

On Saturday, July 13th, the charitable disposed people of Denver, regardless of creed, will take possession of Elitch's garden to help the Good Shepherd Aid association make possible the erection of a new wing to the home at West Cedar avenue and Cherokee street. The work of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd is one that appeals to all classes of humanity and is known all over the civilized world. For nearly a quarter of a century they have been established in Denver and have accomplished incredible good during that time, always working against heavy odds and often crippled financially. Mrs. John Hubbard, president of the Good Shepherd Aid association, with a corps of able assistants, has been going among the people for many weeks past, disposing of tickets and begging supplies for the dining room and refreshment booths, and feels highly gratified at the success attending their efforts.

Personals.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians held its annual picnic at Bloomfield park on Thursday, July 4th. It was an old fashioned basket picnic and was thoroughly enjoyed, not only by the members, but by their wives and children. A splendid program of sports was provided and valuable prizes given. Irish dances were a special feature of the occasion and were immensely popular. There was also an intellectual treat furnished the picnicers. Rev. H. L. McMenamin of the cathedral spoke on the history and standing of the Ancient Order, and Stephen J. Donkany delivered a stirring address on "The Present Conditions in Ireland."

The local council Knights of Columbus is preparing to send a monster delegation to the national convention at Norfolk, Va. Already two hundred members have signified their intention of going and these, with the wives and families, will be conveyed by special train leaving Denver on Friday, August 2. Delegations from California, Oregon and other western states will be routed by way of Dent and royally entertained by the local council during their brief stay in town.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Metz spent Sunday in Leadville, where he confirmed a large class, including many adults.

Rev. Father Donovan of the Cathedral reports great success on his missionary tour of North Park.

At the last meeting of the Catholic Young Men's club eight new members were initiated, making a total now of 156 young men in the organization. The boys are planning a big picnic at Eldorado Springs for Colorado day, August 1. They have a very strong baseball team, and Rev. Father Brown, president of Sacred Heart college, has offered them the use of the college ball grounds for the summer months. The members of this club deserve unstinted praise for the perseverance with which they labored, despite countless obstacles, and built up in a few short years one of the strongest social organizations in the city. The series of dances so thoroughly enjoyed during the winter will be resumed.

Mrs. W. H. Delleker has returned to Denver after a prolonged stay in Philadelphia and other eastern cities.

Miss Agnes Roberts of Kansas City is paying one of her frequent visits to Denver, where she is always warmly received.

The Misses Angela and Mamie Gilmore of 2338 Humboldt street, are in Erie, Pa., where they went to attend the wedding of their cousin, Miss Anna Knibb, and Mr. Lawrence Meyer.

Mrs. Fred K. Paul is entertaining friends from her old home in Wichita, Kan.

Mr. Harry Geier of 578 Logan avenue left last week for Wisconsin, where his aged mother lies dangerously ill.

Mr. Casey, who has been enjoying a brief sojourn in Denver, returned to his home in St. Louis last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Walsh of 2881 Curtis street left Tuesday night for New York, whence they sail the last of the month for Ireland.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger P. Sheehy have taken up their residence at 1123 West Fourteenth avenue. Mr. Sheehy went to Rock Island, Ill., three weeks ago, ostensibly on a vacation and surprised his friends by returning with a bride.

Miss Heloise Northrop, after several years spent in the study of music in New York City and the Boston Conservatory of Music, has returned to Denver, where her glorious voice will again be heard by her many friends and admirers.

Wedding Bells.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ernest Coughlin of Laramie, Wyo., were in Denver during the week on their honeymoon. Mr. Coughlin's boyhood was passed here as a pupil at Sacred Heart college, and his many friends were glad to see him back. Mrs. Coughlin was until June 26 Miss Nellie Wagner, daughter of the late Charles L. Wagner, a very wealthy lumberman of Wyoming. After visiting other points in Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. Coughlin will make their home in Laramie.

A very pretty wedding took place at Sacred Heart church Thursday evening, June 27, when Miss Emma Marshall Corbett, daughter of Mrs. Rose Corbett of this city, became the wife of Mr. Frank W. Peers of Chicago. Rev. Father Barry, S. J., performed the ceremony, and the queen's daughters' choir, of which the bride was a member, furnished the music. The church was very prettily decorated. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Peers left for their future home in Chicago, where Mr. Peers is manager of the Auditorium theatre.

The following is taken from the Erie Daily Times of June 26:

This marriage of Miss Anna Knibb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Knibb of this city, and Laurence Eugene Meyer of Denver, Colo., was solemnized at St. Mary's church, East Ninth street, at 9 o'clock this morning. The spacious edifice was filled before the hour of the ceremony, with friends of the bride and groom. Promptly at the appointed hour the notes of the bridal march from Lohengrin pealed forth on the organ, and the ushers met the bride and her attendants at the door. The ushers, Charles Knoll, George Hart, Christopher Moiz of Erie and John Fredericks of Cleveland, were followed by the maid of honor, Miss Angela Gilmore of Denver, Colo., cousin of the bride, then came the bride leading on the arm of her father. She was gowned in an exquisite creation of white organdy and lace, built over silk, made with train, and a crown of honor wore a charming costume of white French lawn. The party was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Boniface Brundage, and the officiating clergy and axes.

The marriage service was read before the beginning of the mass. The solemn nuptial high mass was celebrated by Very Rev. Theodore Schmidt, prior of St. Mary's church, assisted by Father Melchior, O. S. B., as deacon, and Joseph Willing of Duquesne, Ia., cousin of the groom, as sub-deacon. The music of the mass was chanted by the boy choir under the direction of Professor Fulmer, choir-master and organist of the church.

The decorations were very elegant. The main altar was almost hidden under the elaborate arrangement of white and pink roses with smilax and palms. A screen of palms separated the altar from the body of the church. The beautiful altar painting was lighted with a soft glow and innumerable lights glimmered amongst the greenery. At the conclusion of the service the Mendelssohn wedding march was played as the party came down the aisle. A wedding breakfast was served for the relatives and immediate friends of the bride and groom at the home of the bride's parents, East Eighth street.

The bride received a profusion of elegant gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer left after the breakfast for an extended eastern tour. They will make Erie relatives a visit before starting for their future home in Denver, Colo., where they will be "at home" after Sept. 15, at 246 High street.

Mr. Meyer is a rising young business man of Denver. His bride is one of the most gracious and lovable, as well as one of the most gifted, young women of this city.

Obituary.

The sad death of William J. A'Hern has cast a gloom over a large circle of friends. William A'Hern was the eldest son of Mrs. Mary A'Hern of 971 South Fifteenth street, and was born in Denver July 1, 1883. He spent his early years of school life at Immaculate Conception school, going later to an eastern college. By profession he was an assayer, and had gone to Trinidad only two weeks before his fatal illness to fill a responsible position. On Tuesday evening, June 25, he was stricken with spinal meningitis, and though he received every care and attention known to medical science, passed away on Saturday. At his bedside when death came were his mother, who had been busily summoned to Trinidad when he was first taken ill, and Sister Sebastian, one of Willie's early teachers in Denver, but now stationed at St. Joseph's academy, Trinidad. The bereaved mother accompanied the body to Denver, where the funeral was held Wednesday evening, July 3, from Logan avenue chapel. Requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Father McMenamin, who also spoke words of comfort to the sorrowing family. The Junior choir furnished the music. There were present many friends and neighbors who had known the young man from infancy, had been surprised in following his career, and had watched his beautiful character unfold day by day. The pall-bearers were chosen from among his former schoolmates, and were Messrs. James Daily, George Ryan, Fred K. Kelly, Harry McCabe, Will Thurber and Dr. James L. Laughlin. Interment was in Riverside cemetery, in the family lot.

Besides his mother, William A'Hern is survived by three sisters, Misses May, Gertrude and Bernadette A'Hern, and a young brother, Neal A'Hern.

The body of William H. McGovern, who died at St. Anthony's hospital on Tuesday, June 25, was shipped to Rochester, N. Y., for burial.

Miss Verina Burns died on Saturday, June 29, at 404 Seventeenth avenue, and the body, accompanied by her sister, was sent to Chicago for interment after requiem mass at Logan avenue chapel Monday, July 1. Miss Burns was a member of St. Ann's Court, Women's Catholic Order of Foresters of Chicago, and came to Denver only a few months ago in search of health.

Michael J. Whalen died on Wednesday, June 26, after a long illness. He had come to Denver from Illinois several years ago suffering from tuberculosis, and improved sufficiently to be able to take a position as treasurer of the Crollus Coal company. However, the change for the better was not permanent. The body was shipped on Thursday to his old home in Minnesota, Ill.

Mrs. Jean Louise Mandel, wife of Philip Mandel of Laramie, Wyo., passed away at Mercy hospital on Tuesday, June 25. The funeral was held Thursday morning with requiem mass at Logan avenue chapel. Interment in Mount Calvary cemetery.

Martin Conley, for years a resident of 2744 Lawrence street, died in Pueblo, Colo., on Monday, June 24, at the advanced age of 86 years. The body was brought to Denver and buried from Sacred Heart church, where requiem mass was said on Tuesday, June 27. Interment was in Mount Calvary cemetery.

St. Vincent's Orphans' Aid society met Tuesday afternoon, July 2, at Miss Julia Clifford, 1340 Gilpin street. The annual picnic was discussed and plans considered to make it a huge success.

GRAND JUNCTION, COLO.

(Special Correspondence.)

Rev. C. Barth and J. Vincent, S. M., from All Hallows college, Salt Lake, were visitors to the city last week en route to the east.

Rev. W. Kipp, pastor at Gunnison, came down and spent a few days with Father Conway and Father Palmer.

The Knights of Columbus are planning to initiate a big class about the last of July, and they also expect several of the Montrose knights, accompanied by the new branch, to successfully organize by Rev. O'Farrell of Montrose, "The Daughters of Isabella," and there is no doubt but what the Grand Junction knights will do all they can to make this affair a pleasant one.

Father Conway left last Sunday for Denver and Cheyenne, and will be absent a couple of weeks.

The last Sunday of June was celebrated with great devotion. During the mass several visits during the day in order to gain the indulgence granted by the pope, and the number of communions were large.

Joseph Desrosier are home from their school in Canada to spend the vacation with their parents on North First street.

Mr. Tom Knowles, after spending several days at home and Glenwood, returned to his "outing" at Gunnison.

Mrs. J. C. Vining of Colorado Springs spent several days here last week visiting with her brother and sister, Mr. J. W. Moran and Miss Nellie Moran. Mr. Moran has opened up the newest and best candy and ice cream parlors in the city, and there is every reason to believe that his patronage will increase every day, as Mr. Moran is an up-to-date man along all the lines which take to make a thorough business of this kind. His sister, Miss Nellie, fills the capacity of cashier.

Miss Agnes Cosgrove has returned from St. Mary's academy, Salt Lake, Utah, to spend her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Cosgrove. Miss Agnes is quite a talented musician, and her performing on the piano shows some good, hard studying in the last nine months.

The Ladies' Aid society served the refreshments at the ball in the Auditorium on the evening of the Fourth. Quite a neat little sum was realized, and the ladies all did their best to make it a success.

Mrs. A. Sims goes to St. Paul this month on a visit to her father and mother. Her numerous friends wish her a pleasant time and a joyous reunion in the family home.

POCATELLO, IDA.

Miss Helena Reilly of Pocatello and Harry L. DeLata of Salt Lake were married yesterday at St. Mary's cathedral. Miss Reilly is one of Pocatello's most popular young ladies. Mr. DeLata is a mining engineer, and until recently resided in Pocatello, where a young couple left Friday evening for Los Angeles and will be at home to their friends after August 15.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season occurred at the Catholic church Monday last at 7 o'clock, when Miss Alta Baker became the bride of Mr. Robert McQuade, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Bogart, who, with the bridegroom and best man, Mr. M. A. Alenbacher, awaited the bride, who was given away by her father, and who was preceded by Miss Agnes Bushy as bridesmaid. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white silk messaline with lace trimmings, and carried white roses. The bridesmaid wore cream silk with lace bertha, carrying carnations. Immediately following the ceremony a brilliant wedding reception was held at the bride's parents, to which only relatives and immediate friends of the family were invited. Mr. and Mrs. McQuade will leave shortly for Montello, Nev., where the groom holds a responsible position with the Southern Pacific railway.

RHYOLITE, NEV.

Jack Lynch of the Ducks property in the Lee district, was out there last Saturday and reports excellent ore in the bottom of the shaft. The ore is of the best quality and is being mined by the Lynch family. The Junior choir furnished the music. There were present many friends and neighbors who had known the young man from infancy, had been surprised in following his career, and had watched his beautiful character unfold day by day. The pall-bearers were chosen from among his former schoolmates, and were Messrs. James Daily, George Ryan, Fred K. Kelly, Harry McCabe, Will Thurber and Dr. James L. Laughlin. Interment was in Riverside cemetery, in the family lot.

The ushers, Charles Knoll, George Hart, Christopher Moiz of Erie and John Fredericks of Cleveland, were followed by the maid of honor, Miss Angela Gilmore of Denver, Colo., cousin of the bride, then came the bride leading on the arm of her father. She was gowned in an exquisite creation of white organdy and lace, built over silk, made with train, and a crown of honor wore a charming costume of white French lawn. The party was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Boniface Brundage, and the officiating clergy and axes.

The marriage service was read before the beginning of the mass. The solemn nuptial high mass was celebrated by Very Rev.
